Evutec has just announced a new case for the Galaxy S4 and it is a first! It is the first and only, for now, Kevlar case for the device. It is under both the Karbon and Wood Series Cases and will be shown for the first at the 2014CES.

Inside of the cases is DuPont Kevlar, this makes for a very strong build. However, the cases do not add to much thickness and still keep the nice design of the smartphone. The Karbon case looks like carbon fiber, while the Wood Series has a very natural look, similar to the wood backs of the Moto X. Evutec is the first company to DuPont Kevlar in a case for the S4.
