ATH-M50xBT2 Headphones

Our good mates at Audio-Technica have generously donated a set of their dope ATH-M50x BT2 Bluetooth headphones. They feature the same great sound and stylish looks we have come to expect from Audio-Technica, but with the kind of practicality and hands-free operation that can really brighten up the mundane, making the average commute, Zoom meeting, or domestic chore that much more of a critical, sensory stimulating auditory exercise. With proprietary 45 mm large-aperture drivers, a low-latency mode option, and dual mics with beamforming technology, it's everything you need for your daily headphone use in any situation!

Minuendo Lossless Earplugs

Have you been considering self-preservation with live music just about back in full swing? We may have just the thing for you with Minuendo giving away a few sets of their Lossless Earplugs. This set provides frequency-accurate, passive attenuation at varying volumes making them an awesome choice for any musician looking to engage in an act of self-preservation. With their patented magnetic locking system, 12 different multi-flanged silicone eartips, and an onboard lever allowing you to take the earplugs from open (-7dB) to closed (-25dB) and everything in between, they're the perfect choice!

Complete RØDE Podcast Setup

For those budding podcasters or those looking to upgrade their setup, RØDE is supplying the goods with their incredibly generous podcast set giveaway valued at over $1500! The set includes a RØDEcaster Pro to record into, with two PodMic's combined with two PSA1+ boom premium professional studio arms to allow you to aesthetically design your setup should you desire that look for your video. This setup is sure to satisfy all your content creation needs so get in before it's too late.

For your chance to win any of these prizes, head to our giveaways page at mixdownmag.com.au/giveaway and follow the instructions.
